

CONTRIBUTOS DA SOCIEDADE PARA A REDUÇÃO DO RISCO EM POPULAÇÕES VULNERÁVEIS

A child, seen from behind, stands in a desolate, debris-strewn landscape. The child is wearing a heavy, quilted jacket and dark boots. The ground is covered in mud and scattered pieces of wood and plastic. In the background, there are several small, dilapidated structures, possibly makeshift homes or shacks, under a hazy, overcast sky. The overall color palette is muted, with shades of brown, grey, and beige, conveying a sense of hardship and vulnerability.
